

Education reforms seminar series presents

Roundtable discussion

January 25, 2021 at 4 pm CET on zoom

During the fall of 2020, the research network Reforms in Education has organized a seminar series that has indicated the wide range of definitions of, and approaches to, education reforms. On this final roundtable seminar we sum up these seminars by posing questions regarding the role of education reforms in educational research, and the role that reforms may play in future research.

Featuring:

Julian Garritzmann, Goethe University Frankfurt, Germany; Nelli Piattoeva, University of Tampere, Finland; Susannah Wright, Oxford Brookes University, UK; Adam Laats, Binghamton University (SUNY), USA.

Timetable for the lecture

16:00	Opening, Johannes Westberg
16:05	Introductory remarks (Garritzmann, Piattoeva, Wright, Laats)
16:50	Short break
17:00	Open discussion, led by Michael Geiss and Jane Gingrich
17:20	Concluding comments, Mette Buchardt
17:30	Closing of the seminar, and info about future activities of the network, Johannes Westberg
